The following action is in response to the amendment received June 4, 2004.

Information Disclosure Statement

Receipt is acknowledged of the Information Disclosure Statement filed October 8, 2003. The citations have been lined through because all the cited documents were cited on the PTO-892 attached to the previous Office action. Thus, the cited documents have been considered.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 7-25, 27-31, and 33-50 are allowed. In accordance with MPEP 608.01(n)IV, claims 7-25, 46-50, 27-31, 33-37, 44, 45, and 38-43 will be renumbered for printing as claims 1-42, respectively.

Reasons for Allowance

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record fails to show or render obvious a hydraulic torque converter having the structure defined in claim 7 and particularly wherein the bypass clutch includes a member connected with one of the input and output at a plurality of points spaced apart from each other in a circumferential direction of the turbine, the one of the input and output and the member that are connected to each other being provided with means disposed at least in part radially inwardly of the points and arranged to reduce the stiffness of the at least one of the input and output and the member as seen in the direction of the axis. The art of record also fails to show or teach the hydraulic torque converter as defined in claim 27 and particularly wherein the springs include an annular array of leaf springs spacedly surrounding the axis. The art fails to show or render obvious a hydraulic torque converter as defined in claim 33 including the means for limiting that includes a ring, and the springs have convolutions surrounding the ring with limited freedom of movement of the springs and the ring relative to each other radially of the axis. The art fails to show or teach the hydraulic torque converter as defined in claim 38, and particularly wherein the means for limiting includes a preshaped annular member, and the coil springs have convolutions spacedly surrounding the preshaped annular member.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
